Dear Colleague:

The board and staff of Grantmakers In Health (GIH) take time each year to reflect on our activities and accomplishments from the previous year. In 2010 we continued to provide opportunities for funders to learn about critical health issues through written products, audioconferences, and meetings that covered a range of issues—from how foundations are responding to the challenges of health reform implementation, to improving women’s health, to building advocacy capacity and promoting healthy school food. This past year also marked several “firsts” for GIH, including the Federal-State Implementation Project, the GIH State Grant Writing Assistance Fund, the Terrance Keenan Institute for Emerging Leaders in Health Philanthropy, and the CEO Summit.

This annual report looks back on 2010 and briefly summarizes highlights of the year and key facts about GIH’s operations and governance. Products mentioned are available at www.gih.org.

GIH would like to express our thanks for the ongoing commitment of GIH Funding Partners and the participation of foundation staff and trustees from around the country who make it possible for us to create useful and relevant resources for the field. We invite you to take a look at what we offered in 2010 and hope you will find our work beneficial to yours.

Sincerely,

Lauren LeRoy, Ph.D.
President and CEO
MEETINGS AND EVENTS

Each year GIH brings foundation staff and trustees from across the nation together at our major national meetings and several, smaller more focused events. These meetings serve important educational objectives and give grantmakers the opportunity to connect with colleagues.

Taking Risks at a Critical Time
Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 10-12 | Orlando, Florida

The 2010 Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy examined how the enormous changes in the economy and financial sector over the past year affected the nation and vulnerable communities. The challenges that arose were accompanied by new opportunities for change and for grantmakers to sustain their roles as change agents and demonstrate their true measure and impact. The annual meeting featured breakout sessions designed to encourage direct and open exchange, site visits, and opportunities for peer-to-peer discussions. Keynote speakers included: Susan Sayers, Partners In Health; Len Nichols, George Mason University Center for Health Policy Research and Ethics; Gara LaMarche, The Atlantic Philanthropies; Mary Jane Koren, The Commonwealth Fund; and Christopher Murray, University of Washington.

The Role of Mission-Related Investing in Health Care Philanthropy
Preconference Session to the Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 10 | Orlando, Florida

Mission-related investing (MRI) provides foundations with opportunities to leverage limited resources in new and creative ways. Directing foundation resources in mission-related efforts can diversify an investment portfolio and create value for community partners while leveraging other public dollars or capital market investments. This preconference presented key MRI concepts and specific strategies for health foundations. Participants learned about foundations’ MRI decisionmaking processes and how they can help leverage foundation resources during these difficult times.

Charting a Healthy Life Course for Children
Preconference Session to the Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 10 | Orlando, Florida

Difficult economic times are hardest on the vulnerable, and no group has more vulnerabilities (or possibilities) than children. Protecting children’s health requires both reducing disease and ensuring conditions that allow them to realize their full potential. This session focused on the evolving health needs and threats of childhood. Key periods, such as prenatal development, infancy and early childhood, the elementary school years, and adolescence, were explored. Innovative approaches to early intervention, family support, and partnerships with schools and other child-serving organizations were also considered.
Terrance Keenan Institute for Emerging Leaders in Health Philanthropy
September 28-29 | Washington, DC

The Terrance Keenan Institute for Emerging Leaders in Health Philanthropy, founded by GIH with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, is a living legacy through which Terrance Keenan's words and deeds will continue to inspire future leaders in the field. The institute offered an opportunity for foundation leaders to enhance the professional development of their most promising staff by nominating them to be institute fellows. GIH created the institute to nurture talented practitioners who have shown the potential to be among the next generation of leaders in the field of health philanthropy, to build relationships among this cadre of emerging philanthropic leaders, and to connect them with established figures in the field.

Fall Forum: Improving Women’s Health from Communities to Care Settings
November 9-10 | Washington, DC

For 2010 the Fall Forum, which focuses on the intersection of health policy and health philanthropy, was centered around women’s health, examining women’s primary health challenges across the age spectrum and paying special attention to the social and environmental factors – the social determinants of health – that shape women’s life options, choices, and health-related behavior. It also explored issues women face in getting access to, and making decisions about, health care, including reproductive health care services. Trends that were covered included increasing rates for women of obesity, chronic diseases, and maternal mortality, and disturbing disparities in women’s health along racial and ethnic lines. Discussions were held on what funders can do, with a focus on how women are developing and implementing their own solutions at the community level.

OTHER MEETINGS

CEO Summit: Giving Ourselves Permission to Take Risks
June 22-23 | St. Louis, Missouri

This summit for CEOs grew out of the desire of the GIH Board of Directors to invite more foundation leaders to the circle and broaden discussion on issues currently faced by foundations around the country. Discussions were centered on exploring the long-term implications of the major issues facing our society; identifying the types of philanthropic leadership, strategies, and resources that will be required to respond; helping foundation leaders develop strategic insights about the latitude they have to take risks, and the potential benefits they will gain from doing so, through dialogue with peers and experts; and energizing foundation leadership to take advantage of philanthropy’s unique position to take bold action (particularly in difficult times) and be catalysts for social change.

Foundations and Health Care Reform
July 27-28 | Boston, Massachusetts

Cosponsored with the Jewish Healthcare Foundation, The Commonwealth Fund, and the California HealthCare Foundation, this was a special funders-only meeting held in Boston to discuss how state and local health foundations can play key roles in advancing health reform, assisting localities with implementation, and shaping a new vision for the health care system. The gathering featured keynote speaker Dr. Atul Gawande who discussed how current medical practice will need to change under reform and the challenges associated with those changes. The meeting also included sessions on the community safety net, delivery system redesign, payment reform, workforce efficiency, and consumer education and engagement.

Building Health Advocacy Capacity at State and Local Levels
Invitational Strategy Session
September 23 | Washington, DC

Cosponsored by the Missouri Foundation for Health and The California Endowment, this meeting was an interactive working session designed to explore innovative strategies and stimulate new thinking around advocacy capacity development. While focused on state- and local-level advocacy capacity, the meeting also addressed collaboration across jurisdictions and linkages with nationally focused efforts. The meeting provided an opportunity for leaders in the field of health philanthropy and health advocacy to come together and explore innovative strategies and stimulate new thinking around advocacy capacity development.

_Back to Basics: Promoting Healthy School Food_

Invitational Strategy Session and Site Visit
October 13-14 | Denver, Colorado

Over the past few decades, the availability of unhealthy foods in the school environment has increased, leaving many students without the nutritious school meals they need and deserve. Although this was tolerated or overlooked for years, the tide is turning and many schools are improving their food offerings. This strategy session and site visit examined the current state of school food environments and identified points of opportunity for foundations to support school meal reform and fight childhood obesity. It featured a talk by Ann Cooper, the so-called Renegade Lunch Lady, and site visits to Revolution Foods and Adams City High School. Discussions were centered around facilitating peer learning and strategy development and on the potential roles of funders in this critical area.

_AUDIOCONFERENCES_

Audioconferences give health foundation staff the opportunity to come together frequently throughout the year to address timely health topics and funding strategies. Officially launched in 2003, audioconferences have become a major instrument for bringing pertinent information to grantmakers on an ongoing basis. Scheduled calls allow health funders to brainstorm and learn about issues of mutual interest. Calls are open to GIH Funding Partners and generally include presentations by experts and leaders in health philanthropy, followed by in-depth discussion among the 10 to 60 participants. Summaries of discussions are posted on the GIH Web site. Audioconferences held during 2010 include:

PUBLICATIONS

GIH publications are intended to keep health grantmakers up to date on current issues and the state of the field, including both quick reads and in-depth reports. These are distributed to GIH Funding Partners and thought leaders in health policy and practice, and made available to others on the GIH Web site.

GIH BULLETIN

Each year, GIH publishes 12 issues of the GIH Bulletin, distributing them to GIH Funding Partners and others with an interest in health philanthropy, such as leaders in health policy, research, and service delivery. Each issue gives readers up-to-date information on new grants, publications and studies, and people in the field of health philanthropy. In addition, each issue contains one or more of the following articles:

➤ Views from the Field

These commentaries provide a forum for health grantmakers to share their perspectives and relate their experiences from working on a variety of health issues. Some report on successful models, while others raise strategic questions or offer new ways of thinking about complex issues.

Throughout the year, GIH helps grantmakers showcase their work through snapshots of their organizations. The following organizations were featured in 2010:
• DentaQuest Foundation, February 15

• Health Foundation of South Florida, March 22

• Methodist Healthcare Ministries of South Texas, Inc., May 17

• Riverside Community Health Foundation, July 19

• The Kresge Foundation, December 20

ISSUE BRIEFS
Weaving together background research with practical insights, Issue Briefs examine health issues of interest to grantmakers and share advice from experts and colleagues on how to address them. Each Issue Brief is based on a GIH Issue Dialogue and combines the essence of the meeting's presentations and discussion with GIH’s research and analysis on the topic.

SPECIAL PROJECTS

➤ Federal-State Implementation Project (F-SIP)
F-SIP was designed to improve communication between the federal officials implementing the Affordable Care Act (ACA), the research and advocacy organizations that are doing work related to health reform, and the foundations that support that work. The ultimate goal of the project is to help advance good policy choices that lay the foundation for successful implementation of the ACA.

Housed at GIH, F-SIP is led by an accomplished team: Melanie Nathanson of Nathanson & Hauck, Chris Jennings of Jennings Policy Strategies, Judy Feder of the Center for American Progress, and Karen Davenport of the George Washington University.

➤ GIH Health Reform Resource Center Fund
The Affordable Care Act’s influence on a broad range of health issues is affecting much of the work in which health grantees are engaged. Increasing numbers of foundations are looking for constructive ways to address health reform implementation at the national, state, and community level. In 2010 GIH established the GIH Health Reform Resource Center Fund, which allows GIH to increase staff resources and programming in order to inform and connect funders sponsoring work related to health reform implementation, and to provide sound, strategic, and actionable information to funders in a timely fashion. The fund also allows foundations to share responsibility for determining health philanthropy’s role in health reform implementation.

Current contributors to the fund include:

- Aetna Foundation, Inc.
- Mary Black Foundation
- Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Foundation
- Blue Shield of California Foundation
- The California Endowment
- California HealthCare Foundation
- The California Wellness Foundation
- The Colorado Health Foundation
- Community Health Foundation of Western and Central New York

GIH State Grant Writing Assistance Fund

The Affordable Care Act offers a number of funding opportunities to state government agencies to support their efforts implementing the health reform law. Because of budgetary and staffing constraints, the quick turnaround time for responding to many federal grant announcements, and major shifts in state government, many states have found it difficult to prepare proposals to access these funds. To address this issue, GIH, with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, created the GIH State Grant Writing Assistance Fund and issued a request for proposals in December 2010. The fund provides up to $15,000 in matching funds per state to grantmakers who are interested in offering grant writing support to state government agencies. Currently the fund has provided grants to foundations in 11 states.
GIH relies on the support of Funding Partners – foundations and corporate giving programs that annually contribute to core and program support – to develop programs and activities that serve health philanthropy. Their support, supplemented by fees for meetings, publications, and special projects, is vital to our work in addressing the needs of grantmakers who turn to us for educational programming, information, and technical assistance throughout the year.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS’ REPORT

Board of Directors
Grantmakers In Health
Washington, D.C.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Grantmakers In Health as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We have conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Grantmakers In Health as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the results of its activities and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying notes are an integral part of these financial statements.
Note 1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization - Grantmakers In Health ("Organization") is an educational organization serving trustees and staff of foundations and corporate giving programs. Its mission is to help grantmakers improve the nation’s health by building philanthropic knowledge, skills, and effectiveness and by fostering communication and collaboration among grantmakers and with others. The Organization accomplishes its mission through a variety of activities including technical assistance and consultation, convening, publishing, education and training, conducting studies of the field, and brokering professional relationships.

Basis of Presentation - The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues and expenses are recognized and recorded when earned or incurred. The financial statements reflect unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted net assets and activities. Net assets of the two restricted classes are created only by donor-imposed restrictions on their use. All other net assets, including board-designated or appropriated amounts, are reported as part of the unrestricted class. As of December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Organization had no permanently restricted net assets.

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Organization that is, in substance, unconditional. Donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires or is fulfilled, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets.

Use of Estimates - Preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Organization considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Investments - Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values are measured at fair value at the statement of financial position date and are subject to change thereafter due to market conditions. The net realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments are reflected in the statements of activities.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment exceeding $500 is capitalized at cost and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method of depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are provided over estimated useful lives between 3 and 10 years.

The cost and accumulated depreciation of property sold or retired is removed from the related asset and accumulated depreciation accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recorded in the statements of activities. Maintenance and repairs are included as expenses when incurred.

Deferred Revenue - Revenue received but not earned is classified as deferred revenue on the statements of financial position. This primarily represents registration fees received in advance.

Income Tax Status - The Organization is exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization did not have any unrelated business income for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009.

Expense Allocation - The costs of providing various programs have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among programs, general and administrative and fundraising.

Note 2. Pledges Receivable - Pledges receivable represent promises to give which have been made by donors, but have not yet been received by the Organization. Pledges which will not be received in the subsequent year have been discounted using an estimated rate of return which could be earned if such contributions had been made in the current year. The Organization considers pledges receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for uncollectible pledges has been provided.

Due to the nature of these pledges, significant fluctuations in net assets may occur. These significant fluctuations can arise as contributions are recognized as support in the calendar year in which they are pledged, but the corresponding expenses are incurred and recognized in a different fiscal period. During 2010, the Organization collected $284,090 of pledges which had been recognized as support in prior years. Conversely, $1,104,626 of pledges recognized as support in 2010 is expected to be collected during the calendar years 2011 and 2012.

In addition, during 2008 the Organization was awarded a three-year conditional grant by a foundation totaling $600,000, of which a total of $500,000 has been recognized as support through 2010. During 2010, the Organization was awarded four conditional multi-year grants from foundations. The total of these awards were $1,980,000, of which $615,625 was recognized as revenue in 2010 and the balance will be recognized in future periods upon continued approvals by the foundations.

Note 4. Fair Value Measurement - The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification establishes a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the plan has the ability to access.
Note 4. Fair Value Measurement - (Continued)

- Level 2
  Inputs to the valuation methodology include:
  - quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
  - quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
  - inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
  - inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

- Level 3
  Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset’s or liability’s fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets at fair value.

Money Market - Valued by the institutional fund management at the stated price of the fund which generally approximates the original cost and fair value of the underlying assets.

Mutual Funds and Equities - Securities which are traded on a national securities exchange are valued at the last reported sales price on the last business day of the year.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Organization’s investment assets at fair value:

Depreciation and amortization expense for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009 amounted to $21,839 and $20,975, respectively.

Note 6. Commitments - The Organization entered into a ten-year lease for office space expiring on November 30, 2012. The defined future rental increases in the lease are amortized on a straight-line basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This gives rise to a deferred lease obligation, which is also amortized over the term of the lease. The lease is subject to increases in operating expenses and real estate taxes. Total rent expense under the office lease for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, was $239,510 and $230,662, respectively.

The Organization leases office equipment under non-cancelable operating leases expiring in 2012. Total rent expense for equipment leases for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, was $31,793 and $26,602, respectively.

The Organization leases its telephone equipment under a capital lease expiring in 2014. The capitalized lease is included in property and equipment at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The amortization of the asset under the capital lease is included in depreciation expense for the year ended December 31, 2010. The net book value of equipment under the capital lease as of December 31, 2010 is $9,483.

The Organization has entered into agreements with hotels relating to meetings in 2011. Such agreements generally contain provisions which obligate the Organization to book a minimum number of rooms and to spend certain minimums on food and beverages. Should these minimums not be achieved, the agreements obligate the Organization to pay certain specified amounts.

Note 8. Board-designated Endowment - As of December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Board of Trustees had designated $2,128,515 and $1,884,513 of unrestricted net assets as a general endowment fund to support the mission of the Organization. Since that amount resulted from an internal designation and is not donor-restricted, it is classified and reported as unrestricted net assets. The president and CEO is authorized by the Board to draw down from the fund annually. The amount to be drawn from the fund each year may be determined by taking an average of the ending asset values, for the previous twelve quarters, and multiplying that amount by five percent. The Organization expects the current spending policy to allow its general endowment fund to grow annually. This is consistent with the Organization’s objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets as well as to provide additional real growth through investment return.

To achieve that objective, the Organization has adopted an investment policy that attempts to maximize total return consistent with an acceptable level of risk. The long-term objective of the investment fund is to produce a total rate of return of at least 5% in excess of the rate of inflation as measured by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index, All Cities Average, 1967=100. Since the duration, direction, and intensity of inflation cycles vary from cycle to cycle, it is recognized that the return experienced by the endowment over any one cycle may vary from this objective; but it is deemed reasonable to expect at least a 5% real rate of return over succeeding cycles. A complementary objective of the investment funds is that the total rate of return achieved by the funds competes favorably, when compared over comparable periods, to other fiduciary funds and/or relevant market indices having similar objectives and constraints and using similar investment media. Endowment assets are invested in a well diversified asset mix, which may include equity and debt securities. Both safety of endowment principal and the quality of its assets should be maintained. It is accepted that the criteria for safety and quality should not be imposed on each individual asset but rather on the endowment assets as a whole.

Changes in endowment net assets for the year ended December 31, is as follows:

Note 9. Concentration of Credit Risk - Financial instruments which potentially subject the Organization to concentrations of credit risk include cash deposits with a commercial bank and a brokerage firm. The Organization’s cash management policies limit its exposure to concentrations of credit risk by maintaining a primary cash account at a financial institution whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). FDIC coverage has limitations and cash balances exceed those limits at times throughout the year. Management does not consider this to be a significant risk.

Note 10. Retirement Plan - The Organization maintains a non-contributory defined contribution retirement plan, qualified under Internal Revenue Code 403(b), for the benefit of its eligible employees. Under the plan, each eligible employee receives a contribution to their account in the amount of fifteen percent (15%) of compensation. Contributions to the plan for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, were $163,951 and $133,270, respectively.

The Organization also maintains a deferred compensation plan under Internal Revenue Service Code Section 457(b) for the Organization's President and CEO. The contributions to the plan for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009 were $14,696 and $16,500, respectively.

Note 11. Grants - The Organization was awarded a five-year grant by the Department of Health and Human Services to be used for various health related programs totaling $1,000,000. The grant period started May 11, 2005 and ended April 30, 2010. Each year the Organization applies for renewal of the grant. Revenue is recognized when the funds are expended. Revenue recognized from the grant for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, was $178,006 and $201,469, respectively.

The organization was awarded a three-year grant by the Department of Health and Human Services in the amount of $200,000 per year during the award period of February 1, 2011 through January 31, 2014.
