Dear Colleague:

We invite you to explore Grantmakers In Health’s (GIH) 2011 Annual Report, which summarizes highlights of the year and key facts about GIH’s operations and governance. Our work covered a range of issue areas—from health reform, to behavioral health, to the social determinants of health—providing opportunities for funders to learn about critical health issues through written products, audioconferences and webinars, meetings, and issue networks. More information about the items mentioned in the report is available at www.gih.org.

One of our biggest accomplishments of the year was the GIH State Grant Writing Assistance Fund, a program first launched in 2010, providing matching dollars to foundations offering grant writing support related to implementing aspects of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Through the fund, grantees were able to secure millions of dollars in additional grant support toward ACA implementation. Another major undertaking was the release of the report Guide to Impact Investing, a framework to help funders think strategically about the potential of impact investing, part of a growing practice to align foundations’ investments with their missions and incorporate environmental, social, and governance criteria into investment decisionmaking. As the field of health philanthropy evolves and grows, we thought it important to explore this practice and how it may augment the work of grantmakers in potentially significant ways.

None of this work would have been possible without the continued commitment and support of GIH Funding Partners and the participation of foundation staff and trustees who help us create useful and relevant resources for the field. Thank you.

We look forward to continue serving health grantmakers to improve the health of all people.

Sincerely,

Lauren LeRoy, Ph.D.
President and CEO
MEETINGS AND EVENTS

Each year, GIH brings foundation staff and trustees from across the nation together at our major national meetings and several, smaller more focused events. These meetings serve important educational objectives and give grantmakers the opportunity to connect with colleagues.

Creating a Healthier Future for Our Kids, Families, and Communities

Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 2-4 | Los Angeles, California

The 2011 Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy challenged grantmakers to envision a healthier future for children, families, and communities through work on many fronts: creating communities that support healthy choices; promoting healthy behaviors; improving access to physical and behavioral health services; building a safe, equitable, and value-based system of care; and turning knowledge into practice.

Laying the Groundwork for Implementation: System Redesign, Payment Reform, and Information Infrastructure
Preconference Session at the Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 2 | Los Angeles, California

Foundations are facing important decisions regarding how their limited resources can best leverage opportunities created by national reform legislation, while continuing to advance broader changes not fully addressed by the Affordable Care Act. The law’s ambitious timeline adds to philanthropy’s sense of urgency. This preconference session focused on the roles that health funders can play in advancing health reform. A panel of experts kicked off a set of conversations about delivery system redesign, payment reform, health information technology, and comparative effectiveness research. Funders discussed challenges and concerns and identified areas of investment and coordination.

Promoting Behavioral Health Integration in a Reforming Health Care System
Preconference Session at the Annual Meeting on Health Philanthropy
March 2 | Los Angeles, California

For people of all ages, integrated care promotes well-being by addressing the relationship between behavioral and physical health. Foundations have played an important role in moving this effective and innovative practice forward. Using a series of case studies and activities, this session took an in-depth look at strategies and leveraging opportunities for promoting behavioral health and primary care integration at the federal, state, and local levels. Attention was given to policy work related to integrated care, the role of integrated care in health care reform, and the need for cultural and linguistic competency in this work.

The Art and Science of Health Grantmaking
June 6-7 | Minneapolis, Minnesota

This biennial meeting examined the ins and outs of grantmaking and foundation operations. Designed for staff and trustees of health foundations, it provided hands-on professional development in governance, finance and investments, grantmaking, evaluation, and communications. Attendees explored both the fundamentals of running a foundation and advanced strategies to address critical issues facing the field.

Fall Forum: The Intersection of Health Policy and Philanthropy
November 3-4 | Washington, DC

This annual program focused on the intersection of health policy and health philanthropy and dug into issues in depth, while preserving opportunities for funders to learn from and network with other funders, federal agency representatives, and the broader health policy community. The program was structured to offer two daylong Issue Dialogues (described below), bridged by the plenary session “Working with Government on Multiple Policy Fronts.”

Safety Net in the Era of Health Reform: A New Vision of Care
A GIH Issue Dialogue
November 3 | Washington, DC

This Issue Dialogue focused on the future of local safety nets across the country and explored how philanthropy can support infrastructure developments and quality improvements, including the adoption of technology, patient care coordination, and expanding provider of choice models. Funders, researchers, providers, and federal officials discussed the need to enhance the capacity and effectiveness of care delivery within the safety net system in the wake of health reform, and whether they are up to the challenge.

Too Few Choices, Too Much Junk: Connecting Food and Health
A GIH Issue Dialogue
November 4 | Washington, DC

At this Issue Dialogue, grantmakers, researchers, and practitioners discussed the current food system, connections between food access and health, and the role of the built environment. Updates were provided on the Farm Bill; the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program; Women, Infants, and Children; and other federal policies related to food access, with ideas shared on how to maximize their potential. Participants focused discussion on promising solutions and opportunities to innovate, including healthy food financing initiatives, healthy food incentives, community kitchens, and food hubs.

OTHER MEETINGS

Full Circle Dialogue on Health

GIH designed an interactive session on health reform, which featured four simultaneous roundtable discussions, facilitated by Sara Kay of The Nathan Cummings Foundation, Helen Neuborne of The Ford Foundation, Susan Sherry of Community Catalyst, and Nancy Zionts of Jewish Healthcare Foundation.

Invitational Strategy Session
April 26 | Washington, DC

Cosponsored by Nemours and the Health Resources and Services Administration, this working session explored the importance of and strategies for, connecting the varied systems that care for children to optimize their health and development over time. Highlights included examining innovative community-level models and other promising policies and practices to promote diffusion. Potential roles for funders to ensure broader philanthropic support of place-based efforts focused on children were also explored.

Variety Is the Spice of Life: Ensuring Health Workforce Diversity
Invitational Strategy Session
June 15 | Washington, DC

With support from the Missouri Foundation for Health, this working session was designed to explore the importance of, and strategies for, increasing diversity in the health professional workforce. In addition to highlighting the issues faced across a broad spectrum of health professionals, innovative models and promising policies and practices to strengthen diversity and capacity were explored. Also discussed were opportunities for funders to ensure broader philanthropic support of national-, state-, and local-level diversity-strengthening efforts.

Foundations and Health Reform
Invitational Meeting
June 16-17 | Washington, DC

Held in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the goals of this meeting were to introduce the federal officials implementing the Affordable Care Act to the leadership of national, state, and local foundations that are supporting work related to health reform; identify constructive roles that various foundations can play in supporting the implementation effort; and plot concrete opportunities for government and philanthropy to work in partnership.

Health, Housing, and Community Development
Invitational Meeting

Building a Healthier Future Summit
Funders’ Breakfast
November 30 | Washington, DC

GIH cosponsored a funders-only meeting, which took place during the Partnership for a Healthier America (PHA) Summit Building a Healthier Future: Bringing Together Industry and Civic Leaders to End Childhood Obesity. This meeting gave health funders the opportunity to learn more about PHA, share information, and discuss strategies for furthering work on childhood obesity.
Audioconferences give health foundation staff the opportunity to come together frequently throughout the year to address timely health topics and funding strategies. Officially launched in 2003, audioconferences have become a major instrument for bringing pertinent information to grantmakers on an ongoing basis. Scheduled calls allow health funders to brainstorm and learn about issues of mutual interest. Calls are open to GIH Funding Partners and generally include presentations by experts and leaders in health philanthropy, followed by in-depth discussion among the 10 to 60 participants. Audioconferences held during 2011 include:

SPECIAL PROJECTS

➤ Federal-State Implementation Project (F-SIP)

F-SIP aims to improve communication between the federal officials implementing the Affordable Care Act (ACA), the research and advocacy organizations that are doing work related to health reform, and the foundations that support that work. The purpose of this project is to facilitate good policy choices that lay the foundation for successful implementation of the ACA. The project, launched in July 2010, is led by Melanie Nathanson of Nathanson & Hauck, with strategic advice from Chris Jennings of Jennings Policy Strategies and Judy Feder of the Urban Institute. GIH manages the overall project. Activities in 2011 include:

• On January 13 and January 20, the F-SIP team brought together researchers, advocates, and funders to meet with federal officials from the White House Office of Health Reform and the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE) about themes the administration would be highlighting in the coming months; current and future ASPE research projects; and issues on which research, policy analysis, and advocacy assistance would be useful.

• On April 24, the F-SIP team brought together researchers, advocates, and funders to meet with federal officials from the Domestic Policy Council and National Economic Council to discuss research and advocacy efforts related to exploring health care in the context of deficit reduction.

• In May, the F-SIP team brought together researchers, advocates, and funders to meet with federal officials at the White House and Treasury Department to discuss how the rules governing health insurance premium and cost sharing subsidies would affect children and families.

• In July, the F-SIP team worked closely with the leadership team at the National Governors Association (NGA) to think through NGA’s strategy for helping non-innovator states prepare for the exchanges.

• On December 20, the F-SIP team brought together researchers, advocates, and funders to meet with federal officials from the White House Office of Health Reform, the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, the Domestic Policy Council, and National Economic Council to discuss preliminary outcomes of the early provisions of the ACA and plans for the rollout of Medicaid expansions and state and federally-facilitated exchanges in 2014.

➤ GIH State Grant Writing Assistance Fund

This project, with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, provided financial assistance to state and local foundations interested in offering grant writing support to county and state government agencies to help implement various aspects of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Funders were eligible to apply for up to $30,000 with a matching rate of two-to-one. At the time, the fund helped leverage millions of dollars in ACA grants. Grantees for 2011 included: Community Memorial Foundation; Con Alma Health Foundation; Eastern West Virginia Community Foundation; Empire Health Foundation; Foundation for Healthy Kentucky; Foundation for the Mid South; HNH Foundation; Maine Health Access Foundation; The Mt. Sinai Health Care Foundation; New York State Health Foundation; Northwest Health Foundation; Rose Community Foundation; St. Luke’s Health Initiative; and Virginia Health Care Foundation.
GIH relies on the support of Funding Partners – foundations and corporate giving programs that annually contribute to core and program support – to develop programs and activities that serve health philanthropy. Their support, supplemented by fees for meetings, publications, and special projects, is vital to our work in addressing the needs of grantmakers who turn to us for educational programming, information, and technical assistance throughout the year.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS’ REPORT

Board of Directors
Grantmakers In Health
Washington, D.C.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Grantmakers In Health as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We have conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Grantmakers In Health as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying notes are an integral part of these financial statements.
Note 1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization - Grantmakers In Health ("Organization") is an educational organization serving trustees and staff of foundations and corporate giving programs. Its mission is to help grantmakers improve the nation’s health by building philanthropic knowledge, skills, and effectiveness and by fostering communication and collaboration among grantmakers and with others. The Organization accomplishes its mission through a variety of activities including technical assistance and consultation, convening, publishing, education and training, conducting studies of the field, and brokering professional relationships.

Basis of Presentation - The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues and expenses are recognized and recorded when earned or incurred. The financial statements reflect unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted net assets and activities. Net assets of the two restricted classes are created only by donor-imposed restrictions on their use. All other net assets, including board-designated or appropriated amounts, are reported as part of the unrestricted class. As of December 31, 2011 and 2010, the Organization had no permanently restricted net assets.

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Organization that is, in substance, unconditional. Donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires or is fulfilled, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. Pledges receivable for unrestricted purposes at year-end are considered temporarily restricted until collected.

Use of Estimates - Preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Organization considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Investments - Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values are measured at fair value at the statement of financial position date and are subject to change thereafter due to market conditions. The net realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments are reflected in the statements of activities.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment exceeding $500 is capitalized at cost and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method of depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are provided over estimated useful lives between 3 and 10 years.

The cost and accumulated depreciation of property sold or retired is removed from the related asset and accumulated depreciation accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recorded in the statements of activities. Maintenance and repairs are included as expenses when incurred.

Deferred Revenue - Revenue received but not earned is classified as deferred revenue on the statements of financial position. This primarily represents registration fees received in advance.

Income Tax Status - The Organization is exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization did not have any unrelated business income for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010. The Organization's federal information returns (Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax) are not subject to examination by the IRS for the years ended December 31, 2007 and prior.

Expense Allocation - The costs of providing various programs have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among programs, general and administrative and fundraising.

Note 2. Pledges Receivable - Pledges receivable represent promises to give which have been made by donors, but have not yet been received by the Organization. Pledges which will not be received in the subsequent year have been discounted using an estimated rate of return which could be earned if such contributions had been made in the current year. The Organization considers pledges receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for uncollectible pledges has been provided.

Due to the nature of these pledges, significant fluctuations in net assets may occur. These significant fluctuations can arise as contributions are recognized as support in the calendar year in which they are pledged, but the corresponding expenses are incurred and recognized in a different fiscal period. During 2011, the Organization collected $806,057 of pledges which had been recognized as support in prior years. Conversely, $152,267 of pledges recognized as support in 2011 are expected to be collected during the calendar years 2012 and 2013.

During 2010 the Organization was awarded four conditional multi-year grants from foundations. The total of these awards were $1,980,000, of which $1,286,875 was recognized as revenue through 2011 with the balance to be recognized in future periods upon continued approvals by the foundations. During 2011, the Organization was awarded a four-year conditional grant by a foundation totaling $675,261, of which $100,420 has been recognized as support in 2011. Receipt of the remaining balance is conditional upon continued approvals by the foundation.

Note 4. Fair Value Measurement - The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification establishes a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the plan has the ability to access.

- Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include:
  - quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
  - quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
  - inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
  - inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.
Note 4. Fair Value Measurement - (Continued)

- Level 3 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset’s or liability’s fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets at fair value:

Mutual Funds and Equities - Securities which are traded on a national securities exchange are valued at the last reported sales price on the last business day of the year.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Organization’s investment assets at fair value:

Depreciation and amortization expense for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 amounted to $22,684 and $21,839, respectively.
Note 6. Commitments - The Organization entered into a ten-year lease for office space expiring on November 30, 2012. The defined future rental increases in the lease are amortized on a straight-line basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This gives rise to a deferred lease obligation, which is also amortized over the term of the lease. The lease is subject to rent increases based on operating expenses and real estate taxes. Total rent expense under the office lease for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 was $239,194 and $239,510, respectively.

The Organization leases office equipment under non-cancelable operating leases expiring in 2015. Total rent expense for equipment leases for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 was $30,448 and $31,793, respectively.

The Organization leases its telephone equipment under a capital lease expiring in 2014. The capitalized lease is included in property and equipment at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The amortization of the asset under the capital lease is included in depreciation expense for the year ended December 31, 2011. The net book value of equipment under the capital lease as of December 31, 2011 is $6,954.

The Organization has entered into agreements with hotels relating to meetings in 2012 and 2013. Such agreements generally contain provisions which obligate the Organization to book a minimum number of rooms and to spend certain minimums on food and beverages. Should these minimums not be achieved, the agreements obligate the Organization to pay certain specified amounts.

Note 8. Board-designated Endowment - As of December 31, 2011 and 2010, the Board of Directors had designated $2,017,760 and $2,128,515 of unrestricted net assets as a general endowment fund to support the mission of the Organization. Since that amount resulted from an internal designation and is not donor-restricted, it is classified and reported as unrestricted net assets. The president and CEO is authorized by the Board to draw down from the fund annually. The amount to be drawn from the fund each year may be determined by taking an average of the ending asset values, for the previous twelve quarters, and multiplying that amount by five percent. The Organization expects the current spending policy to allow its general endowment fund to grow. This is consistent with the Organization's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets as well as to provide additional real growth through investment return.

To achieve that objective, the Organization has adopted an investment policy that attempts to maximize total return consistent with an acceptable level of risk. The long-term objective of the investment fund is to produce a total rate of return of at least 5% in excess of the rate of inflation as measured by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index, All Cities Average, 1967=100. Since the duration, direction, and intensity of inflation cycles vary from cycle to cycle, it is recognized that the return experienced by the endowment over any one cycle may vary from this objective; but it is deemed reasonable to expect at least a 5% real rate of return over succeeding cycles. A complementary objective of the investment funds is that the total rate of return achieved by the funds competes favorably, when compared over comparable periods, to other fiduciary funds and/or relevant market indices having similar objectives and constraints and using similar investment media. Endowment assets are invested in a well diversified asset mix, which may include equity and debt securities. Both safety of endowment principal and the quality of its assets should be maintained. It is accepted that the criteria for safety and quality should not be imposed on each individual asset but rather on the endowment assets as a whole.
